

Ruth Glidden-Pantry (#2299)

Here are two interesting covers which identify H.O Harrison Company as the user of perfin pattern H140. Actually, the cover illustrated below contains a great deal of information. The cover was addressed and stamps added to the flap side - which we usually think of as the back. That permitted the user to illustrate his automobile show room at the intersection of Van Ness Avenue and Post Street in San Francisco, California.
